52 WAYS to iMPRESS Your Boss Without Sucking Up!

By Rodney Robbins

WELL, AT LEAST I'M HEADED
IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION!

WHO SHOULD READ THIS BOOKLET

If you want more out of life, but wouldn't kiss your boss's butt for a million bucks, keep reading! You are about to learn 52 real world, street-proven ways to impress your boss without giving up your dignity or integrity. Plus, you get two free bonus checklists that could put real money in your pockets!

If, on the other hand, you are a suck-up, if you believe fawning over the boss while stabbing your coworkers in the back is the best way to get ahead, stop reading this booklet now! There is probably no hope for you. Just put the booklet down and back away.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Rodney Robbins is a novelist and cartoonist. He also has years of front line management experience in stores, restaurants, TV production and factories large and small. He is a straight shooter who has worked his way up from hourly help to the management suite more than once, and he knows what it takes to impress the boss.

If you are interested in bulk purchase of this booklet, seminars or speaking services for your business, organization, school or college, please contact Rodney Robbins.

WORK & ETHICS

NOW THAT WE'VE GOT IT HOME,
LET'S FIND OUT WHAT'S INSIDE!

1 Show up for work every day! Attendance is perhaps the most important thing you can do to impress your boss. When you are not there, it means extra work for everyone, including your boss, so get up and get to work!

2 Never steal: not paper, not paper clips, not money, not secrets, not customers, not food, not anything! Folks, this is essential! In life you are repeatedly faced with one important question, what kind of person are you? How you answer that question matters more than you know.

3 Come back from every company paid trip with three great ideas. When the boss is nice enough to pay to send you to a conference or a class, repay that trust by bringing back something useful.
